Notice

Sections 4057 and 4058 of the Public Statutes of Vermont reads as follows:

Sec. 4057. Freight wagons, carts or carriages carrying more than two tons weight and less than three tons shall have the tires or felles of their wheels at least three inches wide, and if carrying more than three tons and less than six tons the tires or felles of their wheels shall be at least four inches wide; and if carrying more than six tons the tires or felles of their wheels shall be six inches wide; but the selection may give a person permission to use wagons, carts or carriages in their respective towns, with the tires or felles of less than six inches provided in this section when, in their opinion, the highway should not be injured thereby.

Sec. 4058. Any person who violates a provision of the preceding section shall be fined ten dollars. Said fine shall be further liable to the town in which the offense is committed for the damages to a public highway, by reason of such violation to be recovered in an action on the case in the name of the town, provided the action is brought within six months after such offense is committed.

The selectmen of the town of Barton here by notify all persons violating the foregoing statute that they will be prosecuted in law against every person violating the same.

Carrie L. Goss vs. Allen N. Leach. Whereas Carrie L. Goss of Albany in the county of Orleans in the State of Vermont has this day filed in the office of the Clerk of the county court, for said county her bill for annulment of marriage against Allen N. Leach, setting forth in substance that she was, on the 26th day of November, 1897, married to the said Allen N. Leach and that she and said Leach ever lived together as husband and wife in the County of Orleans; that the libellant has resided in the county of Orleans for the past year, that said Allen N. Leach well knowing that he was then and there the lawful husband of one Cora Knapp Leach, of Greensboro, in the State of New Hampshire, and then and there intending to deceive and defraud said petitioner, did falsely represent to said petitioner that he was then and there an unmarried man; that said petitioner by means of said false representation was induced to marry Allen N. Leach as aforesaid. That said Cora Knapp Leach is still living in said State of New Hampshire and is the lawful wife of said Allen N. Leach and so the petitioner says she was deceived and defrauded by the said Allen N. Leach in said marriage with him.

Said petitioner further says that she was wholly ignorant that the said petitioner, at the time she entered into said marriage contract with him, was the husband of the said Cora Knapp Leach, and praying that said marriage may be annulled in accordance with the statute in such case made and provided.

And it appearing that that the said petitioner is without this State, and that summons cannot be served on him.

It is ordered, that the petitioner notify the petitioner of the pendency of said petition, and summon him to appear at the term of the county court to be held at Newport, within and for the county of Orleans, on the 12th day of September, 1911, on the first day thereof, and answer to the same, by causing the substance of said petition and this order to be published three weeks successively in the Orleans County Monitor, a newspaper printed at Barton, in said county, the last publication to be at least six weeks previous to the commencement of said term. Dated at Newport, in said county, this 21st day of June, 1911.

THE CURFEW LAW.

The quaint custom of ringing bells at sunset had its beginnings as early as the days of "William the Conqueror." I think for many years this was only observed as a pleasant custom. In after years however, many countries have seen the need to re-establish this delightful practice for the protection of children and the home.

The children are wards of the state and are entitled to its care. Many children are motherless, some are orphans, and unfortunately many parents are very careless and thoughtless as to where their children are spending their evenings. In every part of our country one is appalled at the number of young people roving our streets at night. They are seen about railroad stations, theatres and post-offices. The harm which is sure to come from such a life is very clearly to be seen and one remedy is the curfew law.

Now as to the requirements of the curfew law. A committee from the W. C. T. U., in any town, should present a petition to the selectmen asking them to establish this custom as a town law. Of course they will understand how to go about it in a legal way. It would be the same with this as with any other good thing. It only wants someone to make a good beginning.

So much for the curfew law, but I do not think any curfew law alone will remedy the evil. If all the children had good homes and conscientious parents we would have no need of a curfew law to help protect and care for them, but the majority of young people roaming our streets have not pleasant homes, and where we forbid them the street we must give them some place in which to spend their evenings in a harmless, helpful way. We should have pleasant, home-like reading rooms. These may be under the supervision of the W. C. T. U. I think this might be done even in towns where there is no large town library. Good books, magazines and perhaps some good music might be furnished and different members of the W. C. T. U. take charge one evening at a time.

Then good wholesome socials and entertainments should be provided, for the young all crave this and they are only on the street because there is nothing better offered them. If the state would only expend more money in trying to keep our young people good, pure and noble, they would not have to expend it in maintaining reform schools and like places.

Mrs. Helen Bullock, who has been at the head of a training school for wayward and erring girls for nineteen years, says that during that time not one girl under curfew age has ever come there from a curfew town. And it has been proved that the curfew laws greatly reduce the numbers in reform schools. The chief of police at Elmira, N. Y., said that in six months' time it reduced the arrests among children fifty per cent. Judge Alden of New York said he wished there might be a curfew law in every town in the United States.

Cannot the W. C. T. U. of Orleans county do something for the young people of the several towns in the way of a curfew law?

Cause of Bitter Milk.

Bitter milk is invariably due to germs which develop when the milk has been kept at a very low temperature. Very seldom, if ever, any bitter milk is developed in the summer time, unless it is held in exceptionally cold water for several days. The way to get rid of the bitter taste in the milk is to thoroughly scald all the milking utensils, pails, cans, etc., and then keep the milk at a temperature of not less than 55 degrees F.—Hoard's Dairyman.

Treating Wounds on Sheep.

If sheep become incircled on wire fence or other objects, watch the wound carefully and if maggots appear wash the wounds with a weak solution of carbolic acid and water. If the wounds are deep and difficult to reach, inject the solution with a syringe.

RACHEL'S GUITAR.

It Was Tuned to Play a Costly Air For Banker Fould.

Rachel, the famous actress, did not neglect any means of turning a more or less honest penny. In his new life of her Francis Gribble tells the following story of a guitar:

Rachel first saw and admired it in an artist's studio. "Give it to me," she said. "I want to pretend that it is the guitar on which I earned my living as a street singer."

The jest seemed a pleasant one, and the artist handed over the instrument. Rachel embellished it with ribbons and hung it in her own apartment, where it duly attracted the attention of Achille Fould, the banker. Hearing its story, he expressed the wish to possess it. "Very well," said Rachel, "you can have it for a thousand louis."

"Five hundred," said the banker, trying to bargain.

"No, a thousand," said Rachel, expressing her disdain for those who haggle.

And the banker actually paid a thousand louis for the worthless knick-knack. It is said that he learned the truth when he tried to sell his treasure at the Hotel Drouot and that the discovery of the hoax nearly sent him into a fit on the floor.

To Ailing Women

A Little Sound Advice Will Help Many a Sufferer in Barton.

No woman can be healthy and well if the kidneys are sick. Poisons that pass off in the secretions when the kidneys are well are retained in the body when the kidneys are sick. Kidneys and bladder become inflamed and swollen and worse troubles quickly follow. This is often the true cause of bearing down pains, lameness, backache, etc. Uric poisoning also causes headaches, dizzy spells, languor, nervousness and rheumatic pain.

When suffering try Doan's Kidney Pills, a remedy that has cured thousands of such cases. You will get better as the kidneys get better and health will return when the kidneys are well. Let a Barton woman tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. Dubuc, Lake street, Barton, Vt., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and have found them to be a valuable kidney remedy. I suffered from distressing attacks of backache, headaches and dizzy spells, together with other symptoms of kidney complaint. Last winter I used three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and they did me a world of good. I am in a position to give this preparation my highest endorsement."
